Bet shop 'blagger' admits armed raids

A JOBLESS man dubbed the "bookie blagger" has admitted a series of armed raids at betting shops across the south of England – including two in Haverhill.

Nicholas Smith appeared at Harrow Crown Court on Tuesday to face a total of 44 charges of robbery, attempted robbery and possession of firearms.

He admitted six counts of robbery – including two in Haverhill and one in Cambridge – as well as six counts of possession of firearms. Sentence was adjourned until October 10.

officers carried out a dawn swoop on his home in January following a tip-off. He was arrested in connection with more than 20 raids on bookmakers' shops over a two year period, from 2005 to 2007, which were believed to have netted a total of around £30,000.

The gunman, whose picture was caught on a CCTV camera, admitted he terrified cashiers at Haverhill's Camps Road Ladbrokes branch in a robbery last May when he walked in wearing a coat with the hood up, sunglasses and a scarf around the lower part of his face. He walked off with hundreds of pounds after threatening staff with a gun.

He also admitted an earlier robbery at the same Camps Road shop in February 2007, but denied one at Ladbrokes in Jubilee Walk, Haverhill, on New Year's Day last year, which will be allowed to stay on file.

He pleaded guilty to an armed robbery from a betting office in Cambridge in January last year, but denied another in April last year.

He also admitted robberies in Hatfield in March 2006, Harrow Weald and Isleworth in May 2006, Feltham in September 2006 and Spalding in November 2006, as well as charges of possessing fire arms on each occasion.

He denied robberies in Hertfordshire in September 2005, Stanmore in October 2005, Potters Bar in February 2006, Hertfordshire and Buckinghamshire in March 2006, three in London between July and October 2006, one in Berkshire in February 2007, as well as attempted robberies in Burnt Oak in March 2007 and Hampshire in July 2007.

Showing off flowers? Club's got it covered

MEMBERS of Haverhill and District Flower Club can now show off their displays to full effect thanks to new drapes funded by a local councillor.

The club received a visit at its monthly meeting at Haverhill Arts Centre from Suffolk County councillor Tim Marks to see new drapes, which were bought with a £500 grant from his Locality Fund.

The club held its annual floral art competition at the centre last month, attracting record numbers of visitors.

And the new drapes, which had been recommended by the competition judge last year, provided a perfect backdrop for the floral arrangements.

Valerie Phillips, secretary of the flower club, said: "We are very grateful to Cllr Marks, who gave us the grant. We bought the fabric with the grant and our club funded the hemming, fireproofing and the poles required. Everybody commented how good it looked and how the new staging and drapes really improved the visual impact for this year's show, and no doubt for future shows."

Trevor to take lead role in hospice at home care

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

NEWS that our £40,000 St Nicholas Hospice at Home Appeal has hit the half-way mark has coincided with the appointment of the man to lead the new initiative.

Trevor Farrington, already a well respected Macmillan nurse, has been appointed to the post of head of Hospice at Home for the whole district covered by St Nicholas.

Trevor, who lives in Clare, will start the new role this month and has a very clear vision of patients and families being central to the community outreach service.

Trevor said: "I am over the moon at my appointment to head of the St Nicholas Hospice Care, Hospice at Home Service. I am looking forward to the challenges this new position will present and excited at developing the service. The full planning of the future of the project will begin in early September.

"I feel this service will provide choice for such patients and may enable them to remain at home when they are perhaps at their most vulnerable. We want to prevent unnecessary admissions to hospital and for patients to remain in familiar surroundings, being in the company of close family and friends.

"The Care at Home team is expanding to include a Hospice at Home service. This additional service will provide emergency or planned hands-on care for patients and their families at a time of greatest need. We will continue to work closely with colleagues from all health, social and voluntary sectors in order to ensure this vision becomes a reality for patients in West Suffolk.

"I would like to thank your readers from the bottom of my heart for the support they have given to the appeal so far and hope they will continue to be as generous in the future. Their support allows us to provide a Hospice at Home service to some of the most vulnerable people in the area."

A spokesman for the hospice wished Trevor every success in the new role.

He said: "Our Hospice at Home service will be one of the first truly multidisciplinary teams to operate in the community. Our doctors, social workers, complementary and occupational therapists, chaplain, nurses, social workers, psychologist, physiotherapists and volunteers will all be involved.

"Care in the Home, led by the family but supported by the appropriate professionals, is core to the vision of St Nicholas Hospice Care."

■ Our loyal supporters, the Wickhambrook Charity Fund-raisers, are continuing their efforts to boost the Hospice at Home Appeal.

Tickets are still available at £11 for their latest charity concert by Union Gap at the Wickhambrook Memorial Social club this Saturday at 7.30pm. Ring (01440) 820757 or 820155.

There's also their last car boot sale of the year, outside the Wickhambrook Social Centre on Sunday, September 14 from 1pm, with pitches £5 on the day.

How can you help?

WE CANNOT reach our target without your help – so the Weekly News wants to hear from anyone who is organising fund-raising discos, barbecues, dances or other events to boost the hospice appeal.

Tell us what you are planning and we will help publicise your event to make sure it is a success and raises as much money as possible.

If you already have an event organised, why not pledge all or part of the proceeds to the appeal and benefit from the extra publicity to help a really good cause.

A special bank account has been set up at Barclay's Bank. Cash or cheques can be paid in directly to the St Nicholas Hospice at Home Appeal, sort code 201612, account number 80981842.

An on-line donations page has also been created at www.justgiving.com/haverhillweeklynews, which also gives details of how to donate by text, and you can donate by phone on (01284) 715582, at the hospice shop in High Street, Haverhill, or the Weekly News office in Queen Street, Haverhill.

'Disgraceful' response to meals concerns

MEALS on Wheels organisers have been accused of ignoring the views and concerns of Haverhill people over planned changes to the service.

Concerns were raised at last week's meeting of Haverhill Town Council, which has unsuccessfully requested on several occasions that someone from the service attend a meeting to explain the changes.

Up to 60 meals a day are provided for elderly people in Haverhill. They are currently heated and delivered by local volunteers from the Haverhill Arts Centre kitchen.

Earlier this year, WRVS won the contract to continue running the service for Suffolk County Council, but only if the number of kitchens across the county was reduced from 16 to three, with future meals for Haverhill set to be delivered from Bury St Edmunds.

Town councillor Maureen Byrne said volunteers in Haverhill still did not know when their last day of working would be.

She said the council should demand to have some of their questions answered if no-one was going to attend their meeting.

She said: "I think they have behaved disgracefully, as if our representations on behalf of these individuals are not important. This has been going on for three months now and we still do not know what is going to happen."

Volunteers are concerned that the quality of the meals will suffer and it will prove impossible to keep them hot. They also say elderly residents will miss out on the extra tasks that many volunteers currently help them with. The council will again ask for information about the changes and monitor the new system when it comes into operation.

Sonia Page, current organiser of Meals on Wheels in Haverhill, said she would not be continuing after the new system is put in place, which she understood would be from September 29, but some volunteers who did want to carry on had not yet been contacted by the new organisers in Bury St Edmunds.

Mrs Page said: "We want the hand-over to go as smoothly as possible so that our clients do not suffer, but we really don't know how it is going to work."

"We still don't know if the meals will be brought over in heated boxes or heated in the van. I don't think the organisers know what they are doing themselves."

Council says no to extra hours

PLANS for a takeaway food shop to stay open until 3am, and another until 2am, are being opposed by town councillors who fear local residents will suffer from even more noise disturbance and litter.

USA Chicken, in Queen Street, Haverhill, has applied to St Edmundsbury Borough Council to vary its opening hours and stay open until 3am on Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays.

Papillon Pizza, in the town's High Street, wants to stay open until midnight on Sundays to Thursdays and 2am on Fridays and Saturdays.

Cllr Margaret Marks, chairman of the Haverhill Town Council's planning committee, said members were unanimously opposed to both applications, fearing they would increase the disturbance from noise and litter already endured by local residents.

She said: "The basis of our objections is that they have not ticked any of the boxes that demonstrate that they would take preventative action. They don't want CCTV cameras outside, they won't put anyone on the door or want to do any of the sort of things they could to prove they are responsible citizens."

"They will provide bins, but not actually clear up outside their premises. We already have terrible litter problems near the new cinema. Aldi's car park is deep with rubbish."

"We already get complaints from residents who live in the High Street and Queen Street about the noise and rowdiness they have to put up with every Friday and Saturday night."

"I think enforcement officers should come at 1am and see what it is like now before considering this."

"I am worried that if places stay open until 3am there will be noise out on the street until 4am."

In a letter of objection to the borough council, in relation to USA Chicken's application, town clerk Gordon Mussett wrote that if it was approved councillors wanted a more vigorous approach taken to meeting licensing objectives.

Conditions should also include installing internal and external CCTV, employing door staff to control queues and arranging for litter to be cleared up within 30 minutes of closure.

He wrote: "The premises are currently the subject of late night and early morning noise and nuisance caused by its customers, most of whom are visiting after having consumed alcohol at other premises."

"There have also been incidents of public disorder following jostling in the queue to be served at those premises."

■ MAPPED OUT . . . Cllr John Griffiths and Cllr Geoffrey Jaggard with their suggestion for three unitary authorities.

CP

Committee urged to consider third way

THREE council leaders are fighting off attempts to take the "local" out of local government and proposing a new plan for three unitary councils for Suffolk. Instead of the draft Boundary Committee's proposals for two unitary authorities: North Haven, for Ipswich and Felixstowe, and another for the whole of rural Suffolk, the leaders of Forest Heath District Council, St Edmundsbury Borough Council and Waveney District Council want three:

East Suffolk, West Suffolk and North Haven. In a joint statement, St Edmundsbury's Cllr John Griffiths, Forest Heath's Cllr Geoffrey Jaggard and Waveney's Cllr Mark Bee, said: "Three unitary councils would be big enough to work strategically and have a strong voice at regional, national and international levels. But, unlike giant unitaries covering massive areas, they would also be connected with their local communities and able to invest resources where they are needed most. "We don't want 'big government' trying to take over our towns and villages - that's simply not the Suffolk way. Vital services such as schools, libraries, road maintenance and bin collections are at stake and we urge the Boundary Committee to consider our proposal." Cllr Griffiths said: "Through-out our consultation people keep telling us they want local government to be about local issues. They don't want decisions which affect their everyday lives being taken by huge organisations based miles away and with limited knowledge of local priorities, concerns and needs."

Cllr Jaggard added: "It is our view that if we have to go down the unitary route then a West Suffolk authority would be the best solution."

They have also launched a campaign website at www.KeepusLocal.net

Man admits raids

■ From Page 1

He also denied possession of firearms on all of these occasions.

A nationwide hunt was launched to catch the man responsible for the spate of robberies in London and surrounding counties, all from betting shops.

Police believed the culprit could be an unhappy punter, who used a number of disguises during the raids and plundered £5,000 in one Ladbrokes raid.

A £10,000 reward was offered from the Association of British Bookmakers for help in catching the robber and the Metropolitan Police Flying Squad co-ordinated Operation Flagmount, an investigation spanning seven police force areas.

Food for thought on offer from pub

A PUB is offering teachers a helping hand with the launch of a new education pack for schools.

The Haver Arms Harvester, on Pheonix Road at the Haverhill Business Park, has produced the Fantastic Food pack, a free resource that allows teachers to take children on a journey through food and healthy eating, helping them discover what makes a balanced diet.

Harvester has worked alongside education experts to provide a curriculum-linked resource for teachers of Key Stages 1 and 2 and is making the pack available to all primary schools in the area.

Lyndsey Bucknell, manager of the Haver Arms Harvester, said: "The pack will hopefully become a valuable resource for teachers in Haverhill, with fun ideas, lesson plans and posters. The pack will hopefully help children to understand where food comes from and the importance of healthy eating.

"The pack is part of our ongoing commitment to promoting healthy choice to children. Already a number of schools have used the pack and the feedback we have received, from both teachers and children, has been extremely positive."

The pack is available to all local schools in the area. Teachers can either email schools@harvester.co.uk to request a copy or download it directly from www.harvester.co.uk

Clean hands? Ask your GP

PATIENTS are being encouraged to ask their doctor or dentist "have you cleaned your hands?"

NHS Suffolk signed up to the "cleanyourhands" campaign earlier this summer.

It is hoped the campaign will help keep the message at the forefront of health workers' minds.

A series of eye-catching posters will be displayed in healthcare facilities and also promote the use of alcohol hand rubs.

Mice way to end summer

TWO human-sized mice helped put a new slant on the Beatrix Potter tale of The Town Mouse and the Country Mouse at Haverhill Arts Centre last week. Openwide Theatre Company delighted an audience of children with their show, which switched from hedgerow and riverbank to busy city streets, from the scent of flowers to the taste of fast food.

The new adaptation of the classic tale showed what happens when two worlds collided and posed the question: "Would Toni the town mouse and Charlie the country mouse ever agree?"

The performance was the final of three children's theatre shows at the arts centre over the summer holidays as part of the wider Summer in Haverhill programme, with events for children and adults, promoted by Haverhill Town Council. Further children's events will be staged during the October and Christmas school holidays. For more details ring the arts centre (01440) 714140.

Education shake-up may see special school in town

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A NEW special needs school could be set up in Haverhill as part of a countywide shake-up of services aimed at providing pupils with an education closer to home.

Members of Suffolk County Council's cabinet agreed this week to carry out further consultation on the proposals, which if approved would still not be implemented before September 2013 at the earliest.

At present, Haverhill pupils with severe and profound learning difficulties attend Hillside School in Sudbury, or Priory School in Bury St Edmunds, for children with complex moderate learning difficulties.

Initial consultation has been carried out across Suffolk over the summer, and of the 300 responses, a third of them from headteachers, 40 per cent thought additional satellite school provision should be provided in Haverhill.

A report to the cabinet said Suffolk currently has no "in county" specialist provision to support children and young people with social, emotional and behaviour difficulties (SEBD).

The report said: "This gap in provision has led to unreasonable pressure on our schools, and in some cases the learning of other children is disrupted by a small but significant group of children and young people with challenging behaviour. Respondents to the phase one consultations were largely in agreement with the proposal that new SEBD provision should be created in Suffolk."

In the 2007-08 financial year, the council spent £2.46 million to fund 59 out-of-county education placements for children and young people with SEBD and was criticised by Ofsted inspectors who found some of this provision lacked in quality.

But the council says the needs of a significant number of children and young people could be better met locally if high quality local day provision was available.

Reorganisation plans put forward included creating hub special schools, plus new satellite facilities in towns such as Haverhill, Felixstowe and Stowmarket. The plans also include developing new provision to cater for autistic pupils. The successful Wickhambrook Centre, at Wickhambrook Primary School for children and young people with severe dyslexia, would continue and be replicated elsewhere.

Cllr Rosalind Turner, director for children and young people, said savings would be made by not sending pupils to other counties and around £6.8 million could be available from the new Aiming High for Disabled Children pilot programme.

Funding would also be sought from the Building for Schools fund and planning of special schools provision would be included in the third phase of the countywide schools organisation review starting next autumn, followed by a six-week consultation period. A decision could be made in April 2010.

'Bin your bad behaviour'

SUFFOLK County Council is getting tough with people who abuse or attack staff at its waste recycling centres.

So far this year there have been 20 incidents of verbal abuse and six assaults on site staff.

All of the household waste recycling centres are covered by CCTV and a number also have automatic number plate recognition technology, both of which have been used successfully in recent prosecutions.

A spokesman for the county council said: "The safety of staff and users at all the centres in Suffolk is always high on the county council's agenda. We would like to advise all users that if they follow this clear advice, their experience at the centres will be a pleasant and easy one."

The council's advice is to: sort your waste and recyclables before you arrive; follow advice and instructions from site staff; and avoid busy times such as weekend mornings.

You should also check that what you bring to the centre can be accepted, as there are limits on some items. For more details go to www.suffolkrecycling.org.uk

'Ludicrous' plans to move residents

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

RELATIVES of a woman who is set to celebrate her 102nd birthday are horrified that she will have to move out of the bungalow she has called home for the past 20 years.

Grace Jolly, who will turn 102 on Sunday, has been in care for the past 80 years due to learning difficulties and currently lives in a shared bungalow at Stourmead House in Kedington. But she and other residents in the nine bungalows, owned by the Suffolk Mental Health Partnership Trust, will have to move out by 2010.

Miss Jolly's great niece, Mary Cullum, says she plans to lobby West Suffolk MP Richard Spring to see if the move can be reconsidered or at least postponed.

While Mrs Cullum believes Grace is the most able of the five residents in the bungalow, she says health chiefs' plan to put her in a flat with her own front door key and offer only periodic visits from carers is "ludicrous".

She said: "I just think it is ridiculous to suggest that she can live more independently at 101. Grace is better than some of them, but none of these people could cope on their own, they need 24-hour care."

"If someone did not put food and drink in front of Grace she would sit and starve to death. She is just not capable of even getting herself a drink."

"I think it is really sad that they want to move her at her age. I almost think it would be better if she passed on before the move, but her quality of life is good there and I don't want to wish her life away.

"Now they say there is a place for her at Place Court in Haverhill, but she would be surrounded by strangers and not with people she knows."

"I think it is criminal that these modern bungalows were built specially to cater for these people and now they just want to knock them down and sell off the land for housing."

"I am sure that money is the motivation behind the whole thing. It is as though they are simply talking about people on a piece of paper and not people with real needs. This is their home and they should not just be parcelled off elsewhere."

Trust spokesman Nicola Brown said: "The Government is carrying out a strategy which was born from its national Your Health, Your Care, Your Say consultation, a part of which aimed to give people with learning disabilities greater rights as citizens and increase the independence they are entitled to."

"The NHS in Suffolk has long seen the positive benefits this move would bring, with more choices, access to mainstream care and reduced stigma for people who, in many cases, have become institutionalised and refused a chance for independent living."

"For example, as current NHS inpatients, people within our residential service do not have tenancy rights or access to proper benefits."

"The Valuing People Now strategy says everyone in this situation nationally will be helped to move from institutionalised NHS accommodation by 2010."

"Everyone who is transferring into new accommodation is being supported throughout the transition, with plans and decisions being made in partnership with clients and their family carers."

Sixty jobs to go at local firm

WORKERS at a Haverhill wood finishing company have been told that as many as 60 of their jobs could go before the end of the year.

International wood finishing manufacturer, Becker Acroma Limited, is to relocate from its Rookwood Way site to a more modern facility on Homefield Road Business Park. As a result of the move, the company says there will be a reduction in staffing requirements and has notified staff of redundancies due to come into effect from October 3.

A company statement said the decision was part of the company's global strategy to "rationalise" its European-based production facilities.

Becker Acroma's managing director, Jonathan Robson, said, "This new facility better meets both our needs and those of our customers, and we are pleased to be able to remain in Haverhill."

"We expect to be in our new site by the end of December."

"As a result of this change there will need to be a reduction in the staffing requirements and in consequence, it is regrettable that by way of this announcement, Becker Acroma Ltd is giving notice that a number of jobs may unfortunately have to be made redundant."

"Over the coming weeks, we will be implementing a support process for those employees whose jobs are affected by this change."

The company has moved to reassure its customers that the decision will not mean a change in the products and service they receive.

Home bid rejected

HAVERHILL Town Council planners have objected a bid to change the use of an annexe at a house to form a separate home. The council's planning committee objected to the planning application to St Edmundsbury Borough Council for 1 Minerva Close, Haverhill, saying there was a shortage of the type of accommodation there and a known need for it in the town.

Mirror damaged

A WING mirror was damaged on a black Renault Clio parked at Henderson Close, Haverhill, at around 11.40pm on Saturday. Two youths were seen to run from the scene. One is described as male, white, 6ft tall and wearing a white rugby shirt. Calls in relation to this incident should be made to Pc Carl Brandwood at Haverhill Police on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Volunteers dig deep for wildlife

BY Jo Deeks

Email:
editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

CHILDREN and adults have been rolling up their sleeves and giving their spare time to clear an overgrown site to create a new wildlife study area for local schools. Children aged between nine and 16 gave up their Wednesday mornings through the summer holiday to work on the site off Manor Road, Haverhill, alongside adult volunteers and park rangers. Elaine Hewes, manager of Haverhill Volunteer Centre, said the youngsters had worked really hard and even created their own painted sign for the area. Work will continue on Saturday mornings and it is hoped the site will open for local schools, and other groups such as Brownies and Scouts, by next spring. Mrs Hewes said: "It was completely overgrown when we started and we have had around 10 children a week here helping to clear it. They have worked really hard and even started to dig out a pond. We are going to create a circular walk and put bark down, with signs so that children will know what to look out for."

Colin Jakes, park ranger for Haverhill, said he had worked with the volunteer centre on the project to protect the area, which extends to almost three acres and is a listed county wildlife site with protected lizards and other reptiles. Although it would be a locked site, local schools and other group would be able to borrow the key and a teaching pack would be provided to help point out what could be seen there. Mr Jakes said: "It was very neglected and we had fly-tipping and kids starting fires there. "We managed to find some money to mend the fence and the wildlife has increased since then. We want people to value it and realise that it is an important site for Haverhill that needs to be protected." Chris Johnson, from Castle Camps was one of the adult volunteers at the site. He said: "I saw they needed help and decided to come along. I have really enjoyed it and it will be a valuable resource for the schools." The project needs more cash donations as well as more volunteers. Anyone interested in helping should contact the volunteer centre on (01440) 708444.

Call for insulation support

A COUNCIL leader is asking MPs to back a national campaign for a massive investment in home insulation to help people cut their fuel bills.

Cllr John Griffiths, leader of St Edmundsbury Borough Council, has written to Suffolk MPs to enlist support for the campaign that would see the six main energy companies matching pound for pound the contributions from householders to raise an extra £500 million a year. The scheme would lift half a million people out of fuel poverty, knock £200 a year off the energy bills of 10 million households and cut domestic carbon emissions by 20 per cent.

Cllr Griffiths said: "Our energy efficiency work and grant assistance for residential properties has contributed to at least a 24 per cent improvement in energy efficiency from 1996 to 2007. I believe that with the support of MPs we can convince the Government of the scheme's value."

Car owners fail to heed theft warning

By Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

DESPITE warnings about a recent spate of car crime, 150 Haverhill motorists have received a letter and crime reduction advice from Suffolk Police after their vehicles were seen parked with valuable items on display.

Officers in the town have been carrying out hotspot patrols in areas where the number of thefts has been particularly high, as part of an operation to crack down on vehicle crime.

Those vehicles seen with items on display have been noted by officers and their details passed to the crime reduction office. Letters have then been sent to the owners advising them of their vehicle's vulnerability and the simple steps they can take to reduce the chances of their vehicles being targeted.

Inspector Andy Smith said: "I am very disappointed at the high number of vehicles seen by officers with items on display, and equally disappointed that 45 vehicles have been targeted for their contents over the past two months.

■ 'DISAPPOINTED'. . . Inspector Andy Smith.

"Simply removing items of value from your vehicle and locking it makes it less attractive for a thief, yet hundreds of drivers in the town are continuing to put their property at risk.

"Criminals will break into your vehicle if they see something worth taking – or even a hint that something worth taking may be hidden.

"If you leave your mobile phone charger plugged in, the thief will go looking for the handset. If there's a mark left on the windscreen after you removed your sat nav cradle, the thief will wonder if the unit's in the glove compartment or boot.

"If there's a coat on the back seat, the thief will think there might be a wallet in the pocket or something hidden underneath. But if there's nothing on display and the car is secure, the criminal is less likely to target your vehicle.

"Around £6,000 worth of property has been stolen from vehicles in the past two months, and the same value in damage has been caused. But the impact on the victims will have been much greater – time spent calling insurance companies and garages for repair, and time spent having the repairs done.

"There also the time and money spent replacing stolen items, and on hire cars or other means of transport, the inconvenience you could face, just because you didn't lock your car door or left your stereo fascia or some loose change in the vehicle, could be worth more than the damage or items taken."

Ideally, vehicles should be parked in a garage or a well-lit, public place. The Safer Neighbourhood Team will be holding car crime clinics across Haverhill to postcode mark items and give out advice.

Cell death inquest

A PRISONER was found hanging in his cell at Edmunds Hill Prison, Stradishall. An inquest was opened and adjourned into the death of Brendan Lee Parr, 27, who was found dead in his cell at the prison last Thursday at 7.30am.

The cause of death is not yet known, but police were called shortly after he was found.

There are not thought to be any suspicious circumstances, but a report is being prepared for the coroner. The prisoner was from the London area.

Parish has plans

PLANS to build a single storey extension to provide a meeting room and parish office at a village community centre have been submitted to St Edmundsbury Borough Council. Kedington Parish Council's plan for the centre in Arms Lane also includes adding a pitched roof to the existing building.

Security warning as thieves target sat navs

THREE more thefts of items, including satellite navigation systems, from vehicles parked in Haverhill have prompted police to urge people to remove valuables from cars before leaving them.

The latest incidents, linked by police, happened between 11.30pm on Monday, August 25, and 7am on Wednesday, August 27.

A red Chrysler Grand Voyager was broken into by smashing a window at Beaufort Court between midnight and 7.15am on Wednesday, and a sat nav system stolen.

Also in Beaufort Court between 11.30pm on Monday, August 25 and 7am the following morning, offenders broke into a blue Renault Espace by smashing a window and stole a sat nav system and a briefcase, which was found in bushes nearby.

Calls in relation to these incidents should be made to Pc Elaine England at Haverhill police on (01284) 774100.

At Bures Court between 9pm on Tuesday, August 26, and 7am the following morning, a white Mercedes Sprinter van was broken into by smashing a window and a sat nav system and a mobile phone stolen.

Calls in relation to this incident should be made to Pc

Paul Osmond at Haverhill police on (01284) 774100.

Suffolk Police remind residents and businesses to be vigilant as there has been a recent increase in this type of incident, with more than 30 crimes reported since August 1.

Officers are urging motorists not to leave valuables in their vehicles, even if they are only being left for a short time.

Guides will help charity walkers

WALKERS will get an expert insight into Cambridge when they tour the city's streets and colleges for the Bridge The Gap event.

Blue badge and green badge guides will be at several strategic locations along the route and will share their vast knowledge with the walkers.

There are about 110 members of the Society of Cambridge Tourist Guides and some have more than 20 years' experience.

David Wright, society chairman, said: "Our membership covers all sorts of people. There are people of all nationalities, people who are Cambridge born and bred, and people like myself who came here 10 years ago."

Originally from Somerset, he is now in his fifth year of guiding tourists in the city, pointing out the nuances that they would otherwise miss.

He said: "We will be able to talk about the background to the colleges, the people who used to be there, like the Isaac Newtons of this world. When I visit a city I try to do a tour with a guide. It brings a city to life."

He said the guides will be out in force on Sunday, September 14, and will be ready to answer questions from Bridge The Gap walkers.

The charity event, now in its seventh year, aims to raise £40,000 for three charities – the Cambridge News' appeal for a £1 million Teenage Cancer Trust (TCT) unit in Cambridge, the Arthur Rank Hospice and Press Relief, the News' community fund.

The route takes in 10 Cambridge colleges and the Scott Polar Research Institute Museum. This year's walk is sponsored by Excell, the Sawston-based telecommunications company.

There will be a carnival atmosphere with entertainment on Jesus Green and at various points along the four-and-a-half mile route.

Mr Wright said: "It is such a super event and for such good causes."

It costs £8 to sign up in advance or £14 on the day. It is free for under-16s. Walkers can buy a T-shirt for £6 this year. These can be ordered on the registration form or at the website www.bridge-thegap-walk.org and collected on the day.

Entry forms should be sent to: Bridge The Gap, Press Relief, Cambridge Newspapers Ltd, Winship Road, Milton CB24 6PP.

THE Stour Valley branch of Cats Protection has cats desperately looking for new homes. Some arrive as strays, many are unwanted or simply abandoned. Others come from loving homes that, due to circumstances, are unable to care for them any longer. When a cat comes in, it is given a complete health check by a vet which includes worming, removing all unsolicited visitors (fleas, earmites, etc) and dental checks, ensuring that when that special home comes along, it leaves in the best possible health. The welfare of cats is top priority and the branch always visits prospective owners first to make sure of the best possible home.

It is the Cats Protection League's policy never to put a healthy animal down and it welcomes any donation from new owners. If you can offer a home to any of the cats contact (01440) 730096.

PICK OF THE PETS

China is a snow Bengal and is around 12 months old. She came to Cats Protection with her sister, mum and five kittens when her owner (and breeder) could no longer care for them due to family commitments. She is very shy and will need lots of time and patients to help her become the truly wonderful cat she wants to be.

Burrito has been in with Cats Protection for six months now.

She came there when her owner abandoned her. She is around three years old, and although she is very timid all she needs is someone to give her the time and affection she so desperately wants and needs.

Angel is an 18-month-old neutered female. She is a lovely, friendly lap cat who is looking for a home after being returned to us when her last owner could no longer look after her properly. She is now almost completely recovered from a flea allergy which is why her coat is not as fluffy as it should be.

Police FLOs tackle tragic tough tasks

Entering the home of a grief-stricken family desperately trying to come to terms with the death of a loved one is a task no-one would envy.

But a family liaison officer (FLO) is vital to most major police investigations.

A recent case where family liaison officers were needed was the tragic death of city broker Simon Woodward.

He shot himself at the home he shared with his wife and two children in Fenstanton.

Following the tragedy, specially trained FLOs were sent to the home to speak to the two children who were in the house at the time of his death.

Detective Constable Kim Bowen has been a FLO for seven of her 17 years as a police officer.

She has seen first-hand the importance of the role in cases, including the July 7 London bombings.

The 36-year-old detective, who has worked in Cambridge but spent the last two years in the major investigations team at Cambridgeshire police HQ, has spoken of what must be one of the toughest jobs in the force.

She said: "The family is always vital to any investigation. Before FLOs existed, there was a lot of information that would fall by the wayside, but it is now an exchange of information.

When tragedy strikes specialist police officers are there to support the grieving family. Reporter RAYMOND BROWN looks at the role of the family liaison officer.

"It is not pink and fluffy – it's about helping the family through their trauma. When you are being trained you are told it is a, 'big I for investigation and a little s for support', as we are not trained counsellors. However, we are able to put families in contact with specialist agencies which can provide support."

The seriousness of the role is clear in Det Con Bowen's introduction to the family: "We are police officers, we are investigators, we are here to work as a link between you and the inquiry and we are here to gather information."

This information will centre on the personal and social life of the victim – their associates, hobbies, if they had any worries and why they were at the location at the time of the incident.

Det Con Bowen said: "Then we give them (the family) the information as we know it. You have to choose your words very carefully because the family will listen to every word.

"We have to be honest and upfront, but we can't always tell them everything or we may not know all of the information."

"Withholding information from the family is unusual and is only done following careful consideration by the senior investigating officer."

The formal identification of the victim – and who will carry this out – is one of the more traumatic tasks. Possible media interest is also an issue and the family will be kept informed of all press releases.

FLOs attempt to get the information to the family before anything is released to the media, which can be difficult if something is broadcast on the local radio.

Det Con Bowen has been involved in some of the toughest investigations in her career.

She said: "For a time I was a FLO on cold case reviews in Northern Ireland. They had cases that were 30 years old and yet some families had never had a police officer come to their house and explain what was happening."

"The feelings and emotions were like it happened yesterday. Some were very positive because they wanted information but there were others who were still very hostile."

"Whenever a FLO is deployed, you are entering a family at the worst possible time. They are in a distressed state and can be in shock.

■ HARD WORK ... but rewarding for family liaison officer Det Con Kim Bowen.

"They have just had a loved one taken away and we start asking all these questions. But they still welcome you in, in the majority of cases, because they are so eager to find out what happened."

Just after the July 7 London bombings, Det Con Bowen and Det Con Kevin Beaumont, another FLO, were assigned to a man from Peterborough who believed his wife had been a victim of the attack and was in a London hospital but had not been traced.

Det Con Bowen said: "In the end we managed to track her down because we discovered she owned a Mazda car and she had a Mazda key ring in her possession. We spent the next 24 hours with him trying to identify his wife.

"We talked about what she would do every day, what she would wear and details about her lifestyle because our aim was to gather as much information as possible in order to identify her. She had been badly injured, but survived."

Det Con Bowen said it was important to stay detached. "You become an important part of the family. That is why the exit strategy at the end of a case can be difficult, but is very important."

"It is hard work to always be meeting the needs of the inquiry and the family, and it can affect your family life because of the long hours, but it is always rewarding in the end."

Spotlight on the information age

HAVERHILL'S newest museum, the Centre for Computing History, will be opening its doors for the first time as part of St Edmundsbury's annual Heritage Open Days event.

Over the weekend of the September 13 and 14, the centre – which is not yet open to the public – will give visitors an opportunity to view some of its treasures.

The centre's primary focus is the social impact of the information age. Exhibitions will demonstrate how computers have changed our lives, spotlight our dependence on them in the home, at work and at play, and remind people of how many now take them for granted.

The also centre highlights many interesting facts about computers. For example, there are around 150 computers in the average home in 2008, and today's mobile phones have more memory than the computers that helped put man on the moon.

In addition, the centre also showcases many of the great stories of the information age – the rivalry between Apple and Microsoft, the pioneering heritage of British computing and the fascination of the first PC in 1974. The centre aims to educate, inform and entertain. At the heart of the exhibition is interactive experience. One of the centre's most important exhibitions is based around computer games. Visitors will be able to sample vintage favourites like Elite, Space Invaders and Pong. As well as free entry to the building, the collections and the current exhibition - Computer Games 1977 to 1990, visitors can enjoy a guided tour of the centre's core collection. Although this event is free, it is essential to book as places are limited and admission is strictly through bookings only.

Women call time on men's beer festivals

TWO women are stepping into a normally male-dominated bastion by organising their own beer festival.

Traditionally, organising and hosting beer festivals has been left firmly in the hands of men, but following in the footsteps of Christine Cryne, the first ever woman to organise the Great British Beer Festival, two local ladies are now turning their hand to the art.

Kate Wood, landlady of the Plough Inn at Hundon, along with Letty Jeffreys, have organised a weekend of fun, live music and the cream of the very best local beers in the pub's first ever beer festival.

Kate, Cask Marque holder and member of the British Institute of Innkeeping, said: "We've got 14 of the very finest real ales in the country just waiting to be showcased at the festival, with treasures from local breweries and microbreweries such as Old Cannon in Bury, Woodforde's of Norfolk, Green Jack brewery in Lowestoft, Crouch Vale of Essex and many more."

Letty said: "We're really excited about getting local people together for this event. The weekend will see three fantastic bands, too, as well as the finest in local ales."

The First Plough Beer Festival will run from noon on Thursday, September 25 until Monday, September 29.

There will be live music on the Friday night from 8.30pm with The Harvs, Saturday night sees Coast to Coast from 8.30pm and Sunday lunch sees the Louisiana Stompers Jazz Band play from 12.30pm.

Kate and Kevin Wood are resident proprietors and licensees of the Hundon Plough, and took over the pub in April this year. Kate has previously organised two other beer festivals at her former pub in Norfolk.

Chamber to debate unitary council bid

BUSINESS chiefs are invited to have their say on the future shape of local government in Suffolk at the next meeting of Haverhill Chamber of Commerce.

Mike Dawson, acting chief executive of St Edmundsbury Borough Council, will be on hand to hear views on the draft proposal for unitary councils at the meeting on Thursday, September 25. The event,

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

at Days Inn Hotel, Phoenix Road, Haverhill, is due to start at 6.30pm.

Mr Dawson, will lead a presentation and discussion on the proposed changes to the shape of local government in Suffolk. This involves setting up unitary councils - single organisations delivering all the services currently provided by county and district councils.

Chamber members will be asked if they support the plan. Their views will help form a response to the Boundary Committee of England.

The discussions will be followed by informal networking and a light buffet. The cost is £7.50 for members and £15 for non-members.

If you wish to attend, contact Kate Anstee on (01799) 668132, email kateanstee@haverhillchamber.co.uk or visit the website www.haverhillchamber.co.uk

Airline's collapse hits charity plans

A POLICE officer's chance to compete in a gruelling Ultraman contest in Canada was lost when the airline he was due to fly on went out of business.

The collapse of budget airline Zoom meant that Pc Simon Bourne, who works with the youth offending team across West Suffolk, missed the event.

He was the only British competitor taking part in the main event, which involves three days of running, cycling and swimming.

He was stranded at Gatwick Airport for 12 hours with 300 other passengers before it was announced the company was going into administration and all its flights were grounded.

Pc Bourne, whose training included swimming five miles in the River Cam and Great Ouse and swimming in Histon lake, was forced to return home and miss the event he has spent a year preparing for.

He was hoping to use the event to raise money for Cancer Research UK.

Now he is hoping to take part in next year's event.

■ LOST CHANCE . . . Pc Simon Bourne's planned trip to Canada was hit by air firm's collapse.

Pets in the park for hospice fundraiser

FOUR-LEGGED friends are being encouraged to put their best paw forward for an event in aid of their local hospice.

St Nicholas Hospice Care has organised a fun-packed event especially for canine companions. Paws in the Park, a fete for dogs, takes place on Sunday on Hardwick Heath in Bury St Edmunds. Owners are invited to bring their dogs for a day of fun, including competitions, displays and games.

They can also enter a pet show, with categories including handsomest hound, happiest dog and best accessories. Each dog will receive a doggie bag to take home.

Community fundraiser Ian Norris, who has organised the event, said: "We all know what an important part of our families our dogs are - what better way to pamper your pooch than an event like this, especially when it raises money for such a great cause."

The event begins at 2pm. Entry is just £1 per dog. For more information contact Ian Norris on (01284) 747613.

Council's drive to cut emissions

A COUNCIL is test-driving a new scheme to make its fleet of cars greener and safer.

The St Edmundsbury Borough Council trail will see devices known as GreenRoad Safety Centre being installed in 20 fleet vehicles including cars, light commercial vehicles and refuse vehicles. It is being funded by the council's insurers and is being managed and audited by Transport Research Laboratory, who has randomly selected vehicles representing a cross-section of the council's fleet.

A small dashboard display monitors the smoothness of driving, moving from green to amber or red with poor performance. Drivers can monitor the quality of their own driving, and managers can step in with training and support if required. Current users say it can help to make up to seven percent savings on fuel consumption.

Cllr Terry Clements, cabinet member for transport and planning, said: "This scheme is part of the green travel plan we are developing for the entire authority, including working with the Energy Savings Trust to conduct a green fleet review."

"We are looking at an initial three-month trial starting in early September, and if it is successful, we could roll it out across the entire fleet of 140 council vehicles as well as our leased and pool cars."

"Having had first hand experience of this sort of tool, I appreciate how effective it is and welcome its use in our fleet."

Phil Clifford, fleet manager at the council, said: "Road safety is important and the proactive monitoring helps drivers to drive better."

"GreenRoad will also help us reduce fuel consumption, costs and carbon emissions. These were all significant factors in our decision."

Is that . . . could it be . . . Nessy?

GET your diaries out, the boys from Down Under are back in town! Puppetry of the Penis returns to Haverhill Arts Centre on Friday, September 12, at 8pm with The Res-Erection Tour.

This is a mind-blowing show featuring two strapping Australian men who coax their "meat and two veg" into various shapes, objects and landmarks. A video camera will project every detail onto a large screen ensuring that little can be missed – even from the back row! Get the low down on the Loch Ness Monster, be blown away by the windsurfer and smooth talk the slow emerging mollusk from its shell! It's all good fun, a non-sexual, adult only show featuring full frontal male nudity.

■ FuryFest of Suffolk return to the arts centre on Saturday with a night featuring famous British metal act SpeedTheory, Welsh Metalers Nochaa and acclaimed Punk band A Third Wish. With support from Lowestoft's Untold and Sudbury's Life of Byron, the gig kicks off at 8pm.

■ Mamma Mia!, starring Pierce Brosnan, Meryl Streep, Colin Firth and Julie Walters, screens this Friday at 7.45pm. Full of ABBA songs, it is sure to get your feet tapping.

■ The arts centre will be closed on Monday and Tuesday for essential maintenance work.

■ For more details about the shows, or to book tickets, phone (01440) 714140 or go to www.haverhillartscentre.co.uk

Brilliant fun with Divorce

HILARIOUS Olivier-award nominated My Brilliant Divorce opens at Haverhill Arts Centre on Wednesday, September 17, at 7.30pm.

Dillie Keane, pictured left, stars in the witty, observant, funny and heart-breaking realistic play which explores what life is like for Angela Lipsky when her husband has a mid-life crisis and a mid-European affair. She finds herself adrift in a sea of shifty solicitors, a disapproving mother, a series of phone-in helplines, Christmas all on her own and her self-confidence at an all time low. Should she fight to keep her husband? Or should she sign the final papers and move on? Bizarre dates, suspect purchases, a near reconciliation with the ex, then a singles weekend in the Welsh hills brings about a surprise meeting and maybe some hope. Keane is best known as a founding member of comedy cabaret trio Fascinating Aida, with many theatre credits including Me and My Girl and The Vagina Monologues. She is also a regular moaner on BBC's Grumpy Old Women. Tickets are £13.50 from the box office on (01440) 714140.

Woodcushion back – for one night only

By Jo Deeks

ALMOST four decades after they started making music in Haverhill, members of Woodcushion are getting together for a reunion concert.

Five young musicians got together at a house in Camps Road, Haverhill, in 1972 to form a band and create their own unique sound. They were inspired by the singer/songwriters of the 1960s and wanted to write their own tunes rather than just playing covers. Their folk-rock style was inspired by artists such as Crosby, Stills and Nash, Neil Young, Fairport Convention and Lindisfarne.

They got together armed with only acoustic guitars, old coffee jars for bongos, an old Salvation Army tambourine and lots of enthusiasm.

Their name came from the old fashioned toilet seat in the cottage they rehearsed in. Now Colin Fox, Roy Ravel, Jim Moore, Pete Auckland and Joe Osborne will get together for one night only on Saturday at the Taste of China restaurant in Birdbrook to recreate the sound which set them apart 36 years ago.

■ THE BOYS ARE BACK IN TOWN... Woodcushion are set to reunite.

Jim said: "We are inviting people who remember the band and supported them over the years and anyone who would like to join us for a nostalgic musical evening.

"Bob Hughes will be supporting the band with his own contemporary folk style. Bob often used to play alongside Woodcushion and is a well respected singer/songwriter around the area." Local businessman Dave "Scratch" Spencer used to be the group's roadie and has organised the event. Tickets are £3, or £5 for two, available on 07824 306494 or (01440) 763030.

Your stars with Russell Grant

Arries (March - April)
 You're making headway careerwise as a result of conflicts with people at work. A power struggle could result in a promotion or better job for you. Alternatively, you may decide to quit your job and go into business for yourself.

Taurus (April - May)
 Expanding your horizons is fulfilling and frustrating. You enjoy venturing into unfamiliar territory, but your friends and family keep trying to hold you back. It's not that they don't believe in you; it's just that they are worried you will get hurt.

Learning how to share must be the first order of business this week. At times you'll benefit from pooling your resources with a friend, and at others the going could get slow. Stop keeping a tally and just go with the flow.

Leo (July - August)
 An overly serious attitude is causing you to grow stale. It might be a good idea to adopt some of your friends' freewheeling ways and change your domestic routine so you can make space for a new professional role.

Virgo (August - September)
 Focusing on your body's needs is paramount. In the past, you may have taken your good health for granted. Now you're starting to experience some aches and pains, you see you need to be more careful about how you treat yourself.

Libra (September - October)
 Taking a more playful approach toward life is a great idea. For the past few weeks you've been very focused on family responsibilities. Now you're being given a golden opportunity to kick back and relax.

Scorpio (October - November)
 Family life has its ups and downs. You enjoy spending more time with them but you're frustrated by certain relative's views. The sooner you stop trying to build ideological bridges to your family, the happier your home life will be.

Sagittarius (November - December)
 You're eager to explore greener pastures, but may not have the opportunity to do so. A job or family responsibilities could keep you rooted to the same spot. While you resent this, you need to accept it. Find different ways to branch out.

Capricorn (December - January)
 You need to rein in your spending. The more money you save now, the easier it will be to afford something you really need later in the year. Friends may be pressuring you to throw caution to the wind. Turn a deaf ear to these requests.

Aquarius (January - February)
 Be careful about who you trust now. Some friends have proven their loyalty, but someone who has recently joined your social circle is more questionable. They seem friendly and affable enough, but they could be hiding some deceptive qualities.

Pisces (February - March)
 Retreating from the world can cause more trouble than it's worth. If you've been disappointed by a teacher or expert it doesn't mean you have to cut ties with them; don't be discouraged from enjoying a hobby that has fascinated you.

LIVE TAROT
 You could run the risk of losing your identity in a large group. The people around you are charismatic, but they can't make decisions for you. If you're faced with a difficult choice, retreat to a quiet place where you can consult your own conscience.

Impressive line-up and all that jazz for club's season

By Nik Shelton

THE Cambridge Modern Jazz Club's new season kicks off this month and promises some of the most exciting music on the UK scene.

Now in its 36th year, the club holds regular monthly nights at Kettle's Yard and the Junction Shed featuring the cream of British jazz. The autumn programme starts at Kettle's Yard on Friday, September 19., with two respected performers paying tribute to a musical legend. Saxophone player Tony Kofi – twice winner at the BBC Jazz Awards – will join multiple reed player Chris Biscoe and his quartet to play music by Eric Dolphy. The evening will feature music written by Dolphy and also tunes he recorded with the likes of Oliver Nelson, Fats Waller, Thelonious Monk and Charlie Mingus.

The musicians have recorded the album Gone In the Air, a collection of Dolphy tunes, which was released this year to coincide with the 80th anniversary of the great saxophonist's birth. On October 17 the club returns to Kettle's Yard for an evening with Norma Winstone's Chamber Jazz Trio.

The singer's latest album, Distances, features Italian pianist Glauro Venier and German clarinettist Klaus Gesing. The songs include Cole Porter's Every Time We Say Goodbye, Peter Gabriel's Here Comes The Flood and Giant's Gentle Stride, a Coltrane tribute co-written by Winstone and Gesing. On November 7 avant garde pianist Robert Mitchell will be playing a concert with his group 3io, drawing on their influences from freeform jazz, hip hop, folk and electronica. Then the final concert of the year is at the Junction Shed on November 28 when vocalist and trumpet player Abram Wilson performs with his Delta Blues Trio project. The Arkansas-born musician studied at the New Orleans Centre for the Performing Arts, which also produced Wynton Marsalis and Harry Connick Jr, and moved to London in 2002 where he was signed by Dune Records. CarWorld Car Supermarket

New showroom now open

When it comes to offering the widest selection of used cars you will find it very hard to beat the sheer number and variety of vehicles offered by CarWorld Car Supermarket in Peterborough. This fast growing dealership first opened for business in June 2005 and nothing is stopping this company's expansion. In just over three years CarWorld has grown dramatically and more and more car buyers are choosing CarWorld as their first port of call for replacement vehicles.

Inside the new spacious showroom

CarWorld now employs around 55 staff and every member of the team is trained to deliver high standards of service. Open seven days a week, the dealership has recently expanded the number of cars offered at any one time from approximately 500 to around 600 with the recent acquisition and opening of a 100 vehicle undercover showroom.

One reason for CarWorld's success is that the company does not employ pushy sales people out to earn their commission. This car supermarket offers a different, more customer focused approach to car purchasing by employing Customer Advisors who provide friendly and efficient service right from the initial greeting through to an eventual purchase should that be the outcome. Potential purchasers can relax safe in the knowledge that there is never any pressure brought to bear at any time which helps to make car buying a pleasurable experience.

Another reason for CarWorld's success is the selection of vehicles offered covers every single area of the market. This includes popular, cheap to run city cars and superminis through to people carriers, prestige models from admired German, Swedish, British and Italian manufacturers to sports cars and 4x4s. CarWorld now also offers an excellent selection of light commercial vehicles so if you run a business and need a van make sure that you check out their vehicles.

You name the make and model you require and the friendly Customer Advisors at CarWorld will be able to assist, even if the models on your wish list are not available at the time of your visit, as cars can be sourced through trusted industry contacts.

At CarWorld, quality is a watchword. Before cars are purchased for stock they're examined in detail to maintain high standards. They're subjected to a number of checks and inspections before being offered for sale. Those examinations include vehicle history and mileage checks and then CarWorld's in-house vehicle preparation team move in. Vehicles are thoroughly serviced and valeted, and then any mechanical or cosmetic repairs that need to be undertaken are carried out within the dealer's own, well-equipped workshop facility. It is here too that aftersales care is performed for car buying customers who can expect the very best in workmanship. CarWorld's workshop is equipped to handle all aspects of aftersales care while the technicians are trained to deliver the highest standards of excellence, whatever the task.

The cars at CarWorld are covered by comprehensive three-month warranty supplied in-house and this can be backed up by an extended warranty from one of the best names in the automotive retailing industry, Blackhorse, who enjoy the worldwide resources of the giant Lloyds TSB Group.

The Customer Advisors at CarWorld are totally aware that most people won't have access to an inexhaustible supply of money when purchasing a vehicle, so all prices displayed are extremely competitive. And, as an FSA Accredited vehicle retailer, CarWorld ensures that affordable, tailored finance packages are readily available to suit all budgets with prices starting from around £2,000. You'll also have the option of Hire Purchase or a PCP. Finance can be arranged while you wait, you can pay with fixed regular payments, there are low or even no deposit deals, no hidden charges and even your existing finance can be settled. Should you wish to part exchange your current vehicle then you are welcome to do that, too.

CarWorld can provide FREE, comprehensive seven-day insurance through Norwich Union with every vehicle sold.* This allows you to drive away in your chosen car on the same day as your first viewing. CarWorld also carries out a price check on every vehicle to ensure that you gain the best deal in the region on your selected car.

With around 600 used cars all on one site at any one time, there's no better place to come to for your next car. So, why not call into CarWorld Car Supermarket on Ivatt Way, Westwood, Peterborough (PE3 7PN) or call 0845 451 2007 to find out more? You can also email enquiries@carworld.uk.com for more information or view their cars online at www.carworld.uk.com.

Rovers' joy as they win tournament

HAVERHILL Rovers U11 will be full of confidence as they enter into their opening season of colts' football after winning the ever competitive and highly prestigious Cherry Hinton Tournament. For the first time, the full Rovers' squad of 15 players was available.

The event opened with Rovers in a league of five teams with the top two progressing to the final.

Rovers were first up against Sawston United. After an even first half, Rovers upped the pace after the break and eventually ran out 3-0 winners.

Their second game was against Teversham Colts, who proved a very decent well drilled team.

A catalogue of defensive howlers led to Teversham scoring the only goal of a tight game.

Rovers now needed to win their remaining two league matches to progress and they duly recorded comfortable victories of 3-1 and 2-0 against Brampton Spartans and Cherry Hinton.

This saw Rovers into the final where they again faced Teversham.

It was a very close affair and, once again, it was Teversham, who broke the deadlock.

Despite a lot of effort it did not appear to be Rovers' day, until a last-minute free kick was blasted home by Alex Carter.

There was no time for the restart and the game moved into extra time.

Rovers were now on top and were unlucky to see a couple of chances go begging, but a handball by a Teversham defender in the area saw the ref point to the spot.

Carter stepped up and coolly hammered the ball home.

The result was made safe when Paul Jenkinson got on the end of a great flowing move and smashed the ball past the keeper. There was still time for Will Bailey to put the icing on the cake with another goal.

It was a day of great performances from Rovers, whose goalscorers were Alex

Carter 6, Will Bailey 4, Paul Jenkinson 1, own goal 1.

Squad: Ben Coleman, Callum Dray, Rhys Shulver, Sam Street, Sean Elsom, Paul Jenkinson, Stephen Boyles, Cameron Kidd, Joshua Ruthven, Ben Eames, Jack Trowbridge, Tom Middle, Jay Osuchukwu, Will Bailey, Alex Carter.

■ WEST WRATTING U11 prepared for the new season with two friendlies.

The first, against Whittlesford, was fairly even until the Wrattling passing game kicked in.

Charlie Elam, Layton George, Charlie Ripp, Mo Horsley, Jake Murphy, Scott

Bishop and Dom Feira all netted as Wrattling ran out 12-2 winners. An encounter with Lawshall was a little one sided.

Elam, George, Murphy, Whitrid, Gibbs and Horsley all got on the scoresheet in a 13-0 victory.

The efforts of defenders Ellis Wiffen, James Cutting, Josh Schiller, Matt Carpenter and Jack Harvey should not be underestimated in two fine team Wrattling performances that saw all of the boys pass the ball well and show plenty of movement.

■ CHAMPION DISPLAY ...

Members of the Haverhill Rovers U11 squad proudly display the silverware they received after triumphing in the Cherry Hinton Tournament.

CRICKET ROUND-UP

Horseheath are put to the sword

HORSEHEATH found themselves on the wrong end of a virtuoso batting performance with by Babraham's John Woodgate as he powered his side to the Cheffins CCA Senior League, Division One title on Saturday.

Babraham batted first and posted 295 for 9 thanks to Woodgate's blistering knock of 141, which contained 14 fours and three sixes.

Andrew Palmer made 57 and Chris Palmer contributed 52 to the total, with Horseheath skipper Gary Ellis claiming 2 for 74.

Robert Ketteridge (39) and Martin Towers (25) provided some resistance in reply, but Sam Palmer (4 for 22) and Andrew Palmer (4 for 41) made sure they were all out for 144.

■ WESTON COLVILLE were beaten by seven wickets when they entertained title-chasing Foxton in Saturday's Tucker Gardner Cambs & Hunts Premier League, Division Two match.

■ IN THE RUNS ... Trevor Westley, who made 49 for Weston Colville.

Weston batted first and opener Trevor Westley got them moving with 49, but it was 61 not out from Peter Bragg that pushed them along nicely to 239 for 6.

Antonnell Atwell finished with three wickets for the visitors.

Paul Dean managed 40 for Foxton, and No 3 Lawrence Farnum reached 84 to give them the initiative, before Max

Bowen (38 not) and Ian Cambridge (45) stepped in to carry the leaders to 240 for 3.

■ HAVERHILL ended their Marshall Hatchick Two Counties Championship, Division Two season with a one-wicket defeat at Woodbridge on Saturday.

Batting first, Haverhill made 191 for 8, but could not prevent their opponents from edging home on 192 for 9.

GOLF ROUND-UP

■ SMART LOOK...

Thanks to the sponsorship of Grant Dobinson, of Polar Pools, Haverhill Golf Club's juniors are now splendidly kitted out in new shirts and slippers. Dobinson, whose swimming pools, saunas and spas company has been established in Haverhill since the mid-1970s, is pictured with Haverhill GC's Peter Bowers and some of the young players, prior to the recent match against Newton Green.

CP

Jack's the lad to lead the team

JACK Marsh was the only junior player of the recent intake of five Haverhill boys taken into the Suffolk Coaching Scheme, who played in the club's junior match against Newton Green. Leading the team out, Marsh recorded 31 stableford points against the 27 of opponent Louis Woodhead in a format of accumulated points scoring. Both Jack Harris and Ryan Edwards returned 40-plus cards as Haverhill's five-man team achieved a grand total of 156 against the visitors 114.

Individual results (Haverhill names first): J Marsh 31, L Woodhead 27, H Bavester 37, D Oldous 22, J Harris 41, A Oldous 19, R Edwards 44, A Griffith 19, A Archer 33, J Sealey 27.

■ Haverhill seniors played two recent matches. A mixed team lost by seven games to five away to Colne Valley, while the men beat Towerlands 5½-2½ at Couplands Road.

■ There were also two recent ladies' competitions, which saw Jackie Condon (36 points) take the NSCR Stableford from Linda Bugg (35) and Pat Kennedy (34), while 'The Shrubberies' went to Eileen Kiddy and Denise Walker on 48 points. Runners up in the four-ball, better-ball event were Doreen Darbey and Carol Gardener (44), from Shirley Andrews and Leah Nichols (42).

■ Bank Holiday Sunday saw visitors representing 21 clubs compete in the Mixed Open at Haverhill, which was a four-ball, better-ball Stableford event. It was a first for the competition when last year's winning pair repeated their success as Brian Runham and Helen Phillpotts, on 41 points, had a narrow countback win from Alan and Diane Cunningham, one of several duos from Newton Green. Third place, again on countback, went to Stowmarket's Ken and Joan Beale.

FOOTBALL: LATEST NEWS FROM HAMLET CROFT

New leadership delights Brown

HAVERHILL Rovers chairman Steve Brown is confident his club now have the right men in charge in Neil Farlie and Derek Richardson to turn around their poor start to the Ridgeons League season.

Rovers have had a week and half off while other clubs in the Premier Division battled it out in the FA Cup last week.

But Farlie and Richardson, who have stepped in to replace Larry Billings after he quit last month after just three games in charge, have put the time to good use to pull the players in for training ready for Saturday's FA Vase clash with Ely City at Hamlet Croft.

And Brown is much happier with things now.

He said: "The players are enjoying themselves and there is a much better atmosphere around the club.

"Larry interviewed well and we thought he was right for the job, but it soon became apparent that he wasn't experienced enough at this level.

"He worked very hard and we thank him for what he's given to the club, but we feel a lot more confident with Neil and Derek in.

"They both have a lot of local knowledge, and Peter Betts will be back from working in America soon to help with the coaching, too."

Although the new management duo did not enjoy the best of starts when they saw Rovers lose out 6-0 at Kirkley & Pakefield two weeks ago, they did engineer a first league win of the campaign at home to Harwich & Parkeston, in the form a 2-0 victory, which Haverhill will be looking to build on Saturday.

Brown added: "The players are good enough for this level, they just needed to click into the right places, which Neil and Derek know how to do."

NEIL FARLIE: Has moved quickly to restore a positive outlook.
